
Title: Deposition of Korba

Author: Korba

Deposition of Korba

I, Korba, am a citizen of Papua and do avow the following:

1. I live in Papua and have been employed by the magic and alchemy shops for ten years. I have never been convicted of a crime in my life.

2. At the Inn, late last year, I overheard a conversation by a man I knew to be called Eric the beggar and another man sitting at a table outside the Inn. I was standing by a front porch window that was open, finishing a drink, and heard them talking. I took only one quick peek to see who Eric was talking to. The following is what I overheard:

- the man asked Eric to do a job for him and Eric agreed.

- the man gave Eric a bag containing something heavy and Eric took it.

- once, Eric called the man, "Prince" sort of in a mocking way. The man took offense and chided him for it.

- they both agreed to meet again but I did not catch where or when.

- the man spoke with a strange accent which I have since deemed "elvish" in character.

- when asked by Eric why he wore the hood which completely covered his face (it was a ninja hood), he said it was because he had a skin problem; direct sunlight made it worse.

3. At the time I did not think too much of what happened, but after Eric confessed to the crime, I reported what I had heard to the authorities and it was used in court to prosecute Eric.

Signed,
Korba